

23rd International Symposium on Aviation Psychology

May 2025 | Oregon State University, Corvallis, OR

Sponsorship Packages

The 23rd International Symposium on Aviation Psychology will convene May 27–30, 2025, on the campus of Oregon State University. ISAP aims to:

- Showcase the latest research on human performance within aviation systems
- Envision design solutions that best recognize human capabilities for creating safe and efficient aviation systems
- Bring together scientists, practitioners, policy makers and research sponsors to bridge the gap between research and application

ISAP will draw participants from around the world, including industry and government leaders, researchers and engineers of every career stage, educators and frontline practitioners such as pilots and air traffic controllers. We offer opportunities to remotely connect through online plenary sessions, symposia, poster sessions and other virtual events. Although the symposium is aerospace oriented, we welcome attendees from any domain that speaks to issues of human performance in complex technological systems.

We invite you to partner with us to support this important conference and showcase your company to contacts and leaders in the field!

Please find attached an outline of sponsorship packages, so that you can choose the tier that works best for you. And do not hesitate to reach out with questions, we are eager to work with you on individualized sponsorship opportunities.

Best Wishes,

Jason McCarley - Oregon State University
